A lively runaway occurred on First street yesterday afternoon. It was a team attached to a load of stables in charge of Mr. Garrison. The horses became frightened near the opera house and started west at a dead run, scattering shingles in every direction. The driver was a plucky one and held on to the lines at the imminent peril of his life. He succeeded in stopping the team on Water street after they had run against a wall, badly wounding it in the flank and distributing the loss of shingles along the street. Luckily no serious damage was done.

The second meeting of the Kansas Real Estate Agents' association will be held in Emporia August 12th, beginning at 2 o'clock p. m. to which all worthy agents are invited. The object and aim of the association are: First, to disseminate valuable and correct information to parties seeking homes within the borders of our state. Second, for the protection and mutual benefit of reliable real estate agents. Third, for the purpose of using to the best advantage all legitimate means in advancing the material growth and prosperity of our state. Any information can be obtained by addressing S. A. Martin, Executive, president, or J. T. Burton, secretary. A large attendance is desired.

The case of Mrs. Julia T. Rice, of Shawnee county, vs. G. L. Snyder, which was set for trial on the 20th inst. in Justice Hobbs' court, has been postponed for thirty days. It will be remembered by all readers of the EAGLE that this case involves the possession of a certain horse alleged to have been stolen from Mrs. Rice's farm near Topeka about eighteen months ago. We are informed that the animal in controversy Mr. Snyder can prove was purchased by him from a man in Missouri who raised it from a colt. The case will most likely prove an interesting and hotly contested one, as Mrs. Rice's brothers, Messrs. Thompson, are positive that the animal they found in Snyder's pasture is the identical one taken from their sister.

O. R. Stocker has disposed of the plastering department of his business to Messrs. Stone & Benson, and has taken in a partner in the time and cement trade Mr. Charles Plank, and henceforth the style of the firm will be Stocker & Plank. Mr. W. P. Carey will make his office with the above firm.

Yesterday Stewart & Boyle sold three fine Poland China pigs to El Dorado parties, two to Sterling parties, two to go to Cheney and two to farmers in the country near town. The aggregate sales amounted to $225. All of these pigs are to be used for breeding purposes, and are very fine specimens of that popular breed of hogs.

John Goodyear says that over on the west side of the Big river, where the Wichita & Western railroad crosses the big slough, the water backed into the railroad cut during the late rise in the river, and that since the water has receded there are hundreds of little fish lying around dead that were carried from the channel by the high water.

Company A, Second regiment of the Kansas state militia will have a special meeting at Russell hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock sharp, for the purpose of recruiting and to make arrangements to attend the annual encampment at Topeka on September 20th, the same date as the state fair. The young men of the city are urged to join this company, as it can in no way prove detrimental, but on the other hand may become very advantageous to all its members.

A man by the name of Compton, a Cincinnati embezzler for a large sum, and a confidence man by profession, was captured near Douglas Wednesday night at 2 o'clock by Detective McMahon of this city and Tom Sarwine, a Cincinnati detective who has been following Compton for the last three months. The prisoner was taken east Thursday by Sarwine, where he will be held to answer to the above charge as well as to that of defrauding farmers on spurious notes, etc.

Some people are a little inclined to think that the EAGLE's merrimental things which relate to Wichita or Sedgewick county, but facts are facts, and our deductions are based upon figures and not fancy. The average reader would be almost dumbfounded with amazement could he only know the large number of "eastern people" that are looking towards Kansas and Sedgewick county with a view of coming here to permanently locate, and make this country their future home. Yesterday the writer happened to be present when one of our prominent real estate men took his mail from the office. He received fifteen letters, twelve of them were from eastern people asking about the price of land, the future prospects of the county, the climate, and expressing a desire to come to Kansas to locate. When it is remembered that this was the mail of but one real estate firm out of over a dozen, one can form some idea of the number of persons that are looking to Kansas as a future home.

A GRAND SUCCESS.
The Cheyenne Transporter, the official paper of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indian agencies, published at Burlington, Indian Territory, by George W. Mader, views the matter in this light.
"The Daily Wichita EAGLE comes to us daily from Wichita, Kansas, one day ahead of all other dailies, and containing all the associate press dispatches, thus being the quickest by a day with all the important news. The EAGLE, besides the dispatches, has a strong editorial staff, alive to the local pulse of the day, and its local page is fresh, bright and new. In every way the DAILY EAGLE is a grand success, and its editor, Hon. M. M. Murdoch, is to be congratulated upon the strength, size and content of his new work. With its present push, the EAGLE will rapidly spread all over the "Great Southwest" and take the lead in circulation of the Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago papers."

THE NEW CHRISTIAN CHURCH.
It is expected that the interior of the new Christian church, which stands on the corner of Market and Second streets in this city, will be finished by the end of next week, though it will yet be sometime before the exterior is entirely completed. The upright part of the structure is of brick covered with water-proof cement, and is very substantially built and when painted and pencilled will present a handsome appearance. The auditorium is about 4000 feet, has an inclined floor rising gradually from the pulpit to the opposite end of the room. It will be supplied with handsome pews, and will have a seating capacity of about five hundred. From the floor to where the ceiling begins to arch is about twenty feet, making a large and well ventilated room, which is lighted by a number of large windows and handsome chandeliers.

The arched ceiling will be painted or frescoed in panels, as will also the wall directly in the rear of the pulpit. The latter stands upon a raised platform. When completed and furnished it will be covered with the finest paper trimmed in gold.
